Despite being an avid Bernie supporter, I do believe in understanding all the potential leaders and who they are. I had a strong distaste for Trump for a long time because of how the media presents him, however, many of his ideas and points of interest are incredibly relevant and made me view him as a competent candidate. One major example that the media always leaves out is that Trump is an advocate for mental health - this is something I would never have known had I not done my own research and has made me think of him in a different light. This is definitely worth reading if you want to be well-rounded in your decision making process and are trying to understand others.

This book was very good reading. I found out things that I did not know, while at the same time, seeing some of the idea line up with what I knew. Yes, I would hope that people who dislikes Mr. Trump would take the time about 40 min to see for themselves that Trump is the best, of the two. Mrs. Clinton is a person who truly should not be the next President of America. When the Trump haters or those who truly think that Mrs. Clinton would read this book, just maybe they can then begin to think that. Mr. Trump would be or is really the only choice we have. Just read the newspaper, watch the news. Remember how Mrs. Clinton and Obama screwed up the Mid- East. See how her handling that part of the world and she her failure gave rise to ISIS. See how Russia has regained her military might, while Mrs. Clinton and Obama gutted our own military. We as a Nation can not stand another 4 or 8 years. This book will help all of us to see just how dangerous Mrs. Clinton is to our Nation.

This is a great book to read regardless of who you intend to vote for. It is so important for people to know who is running for election and the reasons behind why or why not to support them. I learned SO MUCH about Donald Trump through this book that I did not know before. I had no idea that 34,000 jobs are attributed to Donald Trump, and so much more! I think everyone should read this book. I recommend people to research their future presidents instead of relying on the media to do it for them. This book is well researched and a very easy read.

Author BD Cooper has spirit to write this book of 50 reasons to vote for Donald Trump. Cooper states in his introduction, "If you are reading this book, you are probably either curious about Donald Trump as a United States Presidential candidate, or you've already made up your mind that you are a supporter. I've compiled 50 + reasons why it makes sense to vote for Trump for President. I hope you enjoy this book and that it provides some discussion topics for your own debates." In a year before the election the fires are burning brightly with many candidates, each with their own approach as to how to make the country work. Here BD Cooper offers some insights and makes some good points about Donald Trump's candidacy. Some of his quotes included are as follows: Donald Trump is a champion for the middle class. Trump is a job creator. He supports our military. He is a strong supporter of gun rights. He advocates for a National Right To Carry Law. He is tough on immigration. He is a DC outsider. He will demand more from Saudi Arabia. He will hit ISIS hard. Trump would ban lobbyists from his administration. Trump is the master at making a deal. Trump advocates a beautifully simple tax plan. And more and more and we've heard it from Trump, but not with BD Cooper's asides. Free speech is free speech so we need to hear all views in the case of this controversial character. Cooper sets the stage and does it well. "Looking at the world from all sides now" applies here. Another pathway of thought. Grady Harp, October 15

This election season is peppered with candidates with all kinds of perspectives, but Trump truly stands out from the political norm. B.D. Cooper has done an excellent job of pulling out all of the reasons why one should vote for Trump. While my mind isn't totally made up, 50 Reasons to Vote for Donald Trump has made me a more informed voter. For instance, Trump:1. Has a simple tax plan that will eradicate the need to construct lengthy and expensive tax returns². He has a plan to save Social Security³. He will create more jobs than any other American president has ever done before⁴. (My favorite) He will make America great again Cooper has detailed every point Trump has made and does it without irritating grammatical errors. Great book for the voter who chooses to be more informed this election season!

Quick and easy read with links to more info. I greatly enjoyed reading the reasoning. I suggest you get it. Read it. Then convince your friends to ignore the media lies and support the only person capable of saving our country, who has volunteered to run the obstacle course of an election

Donald WILL make American great again. He has the balls to say what all of us are thinking yet are afraid to say. Everyone should read this book whether you like Trump or not. It contains facts and stats that we can understand and share with our friends and family. Americans need to educate themselves about the candidates and not rely on the media to educate. Easy read, uplifting, encouraging and convincing - that Donald CAN save this great country of ours.
